Description

This bungalow in the popular Torre la Mata district of Torrevieja represents compact and functional housing on the Mediterranean coast of Spain. The total area of the property is 46 square meters, which is an optimal size for comfortable living for a couple or small family. The layout includes two bedrooms and one bathroom, allowing for rational use of every meter of space.

The residential complex features a communal swimming pool, which becomes a real salvation during hot summer months. The ability to cool off in the refreshing pool water after a beach walk or an active day in the sun significantly enhances the quality of life in ...
