Description

Three-bedroom apartment on the fifth floor of a residential complex in Torrevieja, a well-established coastal city in the province of Alicante on Spain's Costa Blanca. The property covers 94 square metres of living space, offering a practical layout for permanent residence, seasonal holidays, or rental investment in one of the most popular areas of the southern Mediterranean coast.

The floor plan comprises three separate bedrooms and one bathroom. The principal bedroom accommodates a double bed and additional furniture without feeling cramped. The remaining two bedrooms provide flexibility — they can serve as children's roo...
