Description

Two-bedroom apartment in the Playa del Cura neighbourhood of Torrevieja, a well-established residential area on Spain's southeastern Mediterranean coast. The property sits within a gated residential community approximately 1.5 kilometres from the shoreline — a distance that translates to a straightforward twenty-minute walk along paved, tree-lined streets lined with shops, pharmacies and cafes.

The apartment covers 50 square metres of living space, distributed across two bedrooms and one bathroom. This layout is characteristic of coastal Spanish construction, where efficient use of space is standard practice rather than a compr...
