Description

This cozy 90 m² apartment in a dynamically developing area of Torrevieja is an excellent opportunity to acquire affordable property on the Costa Blanca coast. The compact layout and attractive price make this property ideal for both young families and investors. The apartment includes 3 optimally-sized bedrooms, allowing for a family with children or the organization of additional functional areas — an office, dressing room, or guest room. One modern bathroom is equipped with everything necessary. The bright living room is connected to the kitchen, creating an open space for family interaction. This layout is particularly popular among young...
